Introduction

This section of BearingNet is where you can display products that you would like to buy. It is especially useful if you want to buy a large quantity of a particular bearing or cannot find the bearing you need in the bearings database. Other companies look at the wanted page and if they are able to supply the products listed then they will contact you directly. All items are automatically deleted after 7 days.

When you view the wanted page any new items that have been added are highlighted. The Wanted table displays the most recent additions at the top.

Once complete click on the OK button.

The page is redisplayed with the item that you added displayed at the top.

This will then show your ‘Wanted Items Listed’ you can then continue to delete any of your wanted items or you can add more wanted items. To return to the Wanted Page click 'wanted' in the main menu at the top of the page.

The screenshot shows the 'Wanted' page with a navigation menu at the top containing 'inventory', 'adverts', 'forum', 'quotes', 'your account', and 'help'. Below the menu is a 'Wanted Items' section with a 'PT Type' dropdown set to 'Show all' and radio buttons for 'New Wanted Items' (selected) and 'New in last 24H'. There are 'Add', 'Delete', and 'search' buttons. A table below shows the latest additions:

Part number	Brand	Qty	Type	Company	Country	Fax	Email	Date
NU215	SKF	2		BearingNet Ltd	UK			May 17 10:08

The screenshot shows the 'Your Wanted Items' page. On the left is a 'Your Account' sidebar with options like 'Change your details', 'User settings', 'Change password', and 'Change contact photograph'. The main area has a 'Wanted Items Listed' table:

Delete	Part	Brand	Qty	Type	Date	User
Delete	NU215	SKF	2		17/05/2010 10:08	Nicola Beer

Below the table is an 'Add Wanted Item' form with fields for 'Part number:', 'Brand:', and 'Qty:', a 'Bearings' dropdown, and an 'OK' button.

New in the last 24H

To view all items that have been added to the page in the last 24 hours click on the 'New in last 24H' option.

Wanted Search

To search for items on the wanted page click on the search facility. Enter the part number and/or brand and remember that the less detail that is entered the more results will be found. For example to view all NU bearings that have been entered into the wanted page enter NU in the part number search option and click on OK. All the part numbers that have NU somewhere in the part number are displayed.

Another example would be to select SKF from the pull down menu in the brand search and click on OK. All the bearings with SKF somewhere in the brand are displayed.

To return to the original wanted page click on the wanted page menu option.

This screenshot is identical to the first one, but the 'New in last 24H' radio button in the 'Wanted Items' section is circled in red.
